News Briefs

Company sales announced

Kresge Company sales for the month of April showed a 38.2 percent increase over April sales in 1975. For the four weeks ended April 23, 1976 sales were $624,081,000 as compared to '75 sales for the four weeks ended April 30, $458,200,000. It was an increase of $165,881,000.

For the 13 weeks ended April 28, 1976, sales were $1,688,565,000, up 24.9 percent from sales for the 13 weeks ended April 30, 1975, which were $1,351,679,000. The increase was $336,886,000.

Robert Dewar, Chairman, noted, "Sales for April were importantly influenced by the late Easter, and by generally favorable weather in the early part of the month."

"The combined March-April sales increase of 25.4 percent compares favorably with the 23.5 percent reported for February, providing further evidence of the continuing strength of consumer demand and a steadily improving economy."

"Improved sales comparisons continue to be noted in higher-ticket merchandise such as major appliances, gas grills, LED watches and lawn mowers. Also, well above average sales gains in the soft goods areas are very encouraging."

"The overall tone of sales is good. While our promotional effort remains strong, sales of everyday basics provide a good merchandise mix."

Real estate office opens

The Kresge Company real estate department has opened an office in the same building as the Eastern Regional Office in East Brunswick, NJ. It is another step in decentralizing the department.

William Torphy and John Siraco will staff the office.

The decentralization began over 16 years ago when real estate personnel established a real estate office in Los Angeles. In 1973, real estate personnel moved to Atlanta to work on real estate opportunities in the Southern region. Two months ago the office moved into the same building as the Southern Regional Office.

There are no immediate plans to establish separate real estate offices in the Central or Midwestern regions.

The decentralization of the department is associated with the growth of the company and permits a closer liaison between real estate personnel and regional executives. All proposed locations of store sites are initially screened and discussed on the regional level.

"The decentralized offices reduce the burden of travel on the Detroit people," states John P. Johnson, vice president, real estate.
